

His Entire Quest is for Love

As we ponder all of history, WE MUST remember it is His Story. When we think of the Lord, remember He is Omnipresent. He knows all things Present, Past and future.

I believe that when He Said let there be Light, Jesus came forth His birthday already slated for the Cross.

Do you think he didn't know Satan would fall? Do you think He didn't know that Adam would rebel? Do you think He does not know where you stand? Do you think He does not know your passions along with your hurts and disappointments, life is more than our own feelings.

We look at mankind and realize they think they are in charge of their eternal destiny. Why does the Lord let them go on as they do? I will tell you why.

Our entire life is a series of choices and that they dictate our future, not only in this life but also for eternity. If we are fortunate enough to be humbled by our circumstances that we turn to the Lord and recognize just who He is we have a chance to overcome all our hurt, selfishness, pain and the sin that comes with it.

It may seem cruel to some but the Lord has to let us go through these things that we might turn to Him, that He may show us what love is. THIS is the reason for the Cross that He may pour out His Love in hope that we recognize the sacrifice He made for us and we would LOVE Him Back. This has been His Quest and IT has been since Creation.

Do you think the Lord wants to spend an eternity with a bride that does not love Him?

Think about where you stand. Do you love Him for the Love He has shown you by His truth (Word). When you sacrifice your life for Love you become LOVE! "When we see Him we will know Him because we will be like Him."

When they stuck the spear into His side on the Cross out-came a flow of water and blood, (THE WORD AND LOVE OF CHRIST). Please reflect on what I am telling you.

This has always been the QUEST of our Benefactor. Please read the Faithful Soldier in my Psalm section.
