

Merciful God

by Reverend Callender

Oh merciful God at the sound of my repentance You have gathered the dust of my life and breathed Your life into it

You have drawn me into the Word of Your Heart

I am worn out by crying over what my sin has destroyed But You have healed my wounds with the Oil of Your Spirit pouring it out liberally on my soul

Let not the poison of men change my thinking that my heart may exalt You in my inner most being

Let the Love which You have poured into the cup of my loneliness be my drink forever

You have seen my brokenness and have forgiven my transgressions therefore let your Love heal also those whom I have wounded

Oh merciful God be not far from those who call on You!
